Office of the Representative for Children and Youth Manager, Advocacy (Applied Leadership) (under review)

Permanent, full-time

Location: Burnaby, B.C.

Salary: $80,769.16 - $87,533.58 (under review). Salary on appointment as per RCY's salary administration policy.

The Representative for Children and Youth, an independent officer of the B.C. Legislature, works to influence positive change to B.C.'s child-, youth- and young adult-serving system. The Representative's Office provides advocacy support to people dealing with the service system and advocates directly on behalf of children, youth and young adults, monitors and reviews government services to children and youth and reviews and sometimes investigates deaths and critical injuries of children and youth who are receiving services.

Reporting to the Executive Director, Advocacy and Youth Engagement, the Manager, Advocacy supervises a team of advocates and/or intake advocates, providing case consultation and operational supervision. All Managers on the Advocacy Team work collaboratively to ensure practice excellence and to coordinate the delivery of advocacy, community relations and youth engagement services for the program area. The Manager provides advice and support to the Executive Director regarding advocacy policy and procedures, quality assurance, systemic issues, and complex or urgent cases. The Manager may also be responsible for office staff and operations. The Manager contributes to the development of a province-wide network to promote self-advocacy, advocacy and community capacity development. The Manager manages a small advocacy caseload and conducts special projects as assigned.

The Representative for Children and Youth is committed to diversity and inclusion in our workplace. To support this, we welcome diversity throughout our organization.
