

Representative's Report

Update #16

Critical Injuries and Deaths: Reviews and Investigations

Purpose

The purpose of the Representative for Children and Youth's reviews and investigations of child deaths and critical injuries is to identify and thoughtfully analyze issues – particularly in service delivery. The intent is to help prevent similar deaths or injuries in the future, and to inform improvements to services.

Independently reviewing, investigating and reporting out on these deaths and critical injuries are essential elements of public accountability and promoting public confidence in the child-serving systems. These reviews and investigations are done in a timely, fair, respectful and thorough manner.

Reporting Period: June 1, 2012 to Sept. 30, 2012*

During this reporting period, 124 critical injuries and 40 deaths of B.C. children and youth who were in care or receiving reviewable services within the previous year were reported to the Office of the Representative for Children and Youth (RCY).

These have all had an initial screening by the Representative and staff to determine whether the injury or death meets the criteria for an RCY Review (defined on Page 8). A summary of these initial screenings is on the following pages.

The Representative released a Special Report, Reporting of Critical Injuries and Deaths to the Representative for Children and Youth, on Dec. 6, 2010. The report was issued as a result of an ongoing and growing concern that the Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) was not reporting all of the critical injuries to the Representative that should have been reported as outlined in the Representative for Children and Youth (RCY) Act. The Representative recommended that MCFD develop and implement a Critical Injury and Death Notification Policy that would ensure the practice of reporting injuries and deaths is consistent, timely and effective and that the policy be finalized, communicated to all MCFD staff, delegated Aboriginal Agencies, and service provider partners or public bodies, and be fully implemented by March 1, 2011.

At present, MCFD has adopted an interim measure to better meet reporting requirements. Although that policy has not yet been finalized, since March 2011 MCFD has been complying by reporting critical injuries in a number of areas that were not historically reported to the Representative when they should have been. The number of critical injuries reported each month is approximately three times more than before this change.

REPRESENTATIVE FOR CHILDREN AND YOUTH

Work continues in this area and a group of staff from MCFD, the Public Guardian and Trustee and RCY is meeting regularly to bring much needed focus to this reporting process and working to build and instill confidence that the RCY is receiving all injury reports as outlined in the RCY Act.

This information is based on reports received by the RCY Office at the time of this update. These numbers may change if additional reports of critical injuries or deaths which occurred in this reporting period are subsequently received by the RCY, or if additional information is received.*

Critical Injuries:

It has been determined that 53 of the 124 critical injuries did not meet criteria¹ for an RCY Review under the Representative's legislative mandate (explained on Page 8). Decisions about whether to review five of the critical injuries are pending the receipt of further information.

RCY Reviews are being undertaken on the remaining 66 critical injuries.

DEFINITIONS

RCY Initial Screening:

The RCY receives reports of critical injuries or deaths of children who were in care or receiving reviewable services at the time of the incident, or in the year previous. These reports receive an initial screening to determine if they meet the criteria, under the Representative for Children and Youth Act, for an RCY Review (defined below).

RCY Review:

Critical injuries and deaths that do meet the criteria under the Representative for Children and Youth Act proceed to an RCY Review, which examines the circumstances and the services delivered to the child. This may include examining medical records, Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) case files, relevant policies and standards. As well, consultation with the Coroners Service and discussions with service providers, caregivers and parents may occur.

The purpose of an RCY Review is to determine if there are service delivery issues or other circumstances that would require an RCY Investigation (defined below). Reviews are also aggregated to identify and analyze recurring circumstances or trends, to improve the effectiveness and responsiveness of reviewable services.

RCY Investigation:

The Representative initiates an RCY Investigation when the circumstances of the injury or death are suspicious, self-inflicted, or when there is a question as to whether neglect, abuse or services the child received may have played a role in events leading to the injury or death.

By law, an RCY Investigation must not inhibit the work of others. An RCY Investigation does not proceed until police investigations and criminal court proceedings are completed. If there are no criminal proceedings, the RCY Investigation proceeds when other processes, such as ministry reviews or coroner's inquests, are completed, or one year after the incident, whichever is earlier.

RCY Investigation reports are presented to the Select Standing Committee on Children and Youth, and publicly released.

Aggregate Reviews:

These are conducted to identify and analyze recurring circumstances or trends in child deaths and critical injuries. This is in keeping with recommendations made in the 2006 BC Children and Youth Review, in which the Hon. Ted Hughes noted: "The primary method of reviewing child injury and deaths will be to examine aggregated information, and identify and analyze trends that will inform improvements to the child welfare system as well as broader public policy initiatives."

Reviewable Services:

Reviewable services are services or programs under the Child, Family and Community Service Act and the Youth Justice Act; mental health services for children; addiction services for children; services to children with special needs delivered by MCFD and Community Living B.C.; and additional "designated services" that may be designated under a Regulation.
