The Representative for Children and Youth (RCY), an independent officer of the B.C. Legislature, works to influence positive change to B.C.'s child-, youth- and young adult-serving system. The Representative's Office provides advocacy support to people dealing with the child and youth service system and advocates directly on behalf of children, youth and young adults, monitors and reviews government services to children and youth and reviews and investigates selected deaths and critical injuries of children and youth who are receiving services.

The Manager, First Nations, Métis and Inuit Relations works closely with the Executive Director and Deputy Representative for Advocacy and First Nations, Métis and Inuit Relations to foster relationships with First Nations, Métis, Inuit and urban Indigenous leaders, Indigenous-focused researchers as well as government ministries, Delegated Aboriginal Agencies, and other organizations that deliver services and supports to children, youth, families and communities. The Manager will develop and lead outreach and engagement initiatives, monitoring, research and evaluation initiatives and projects to ensure that services and supports are accessible, appropriate, culturally attuned and effective. They will monitor government responses to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission, the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal decision on funding for Indigenous child welfare services, the Final Report from the Commission on Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls, Indigenous Resilience, Connectedness and Reunification: From Root Causes to Root Solutions and other key external reports.

The Manager will lead a team who will collectively be guided by Indigenous ways of knowing and Indigenous and decolonizing approaches to research. The Manager will also be responsible for project management and oversight of the work of the Community Liaison Officer and Youth Engagement Advisor. The Manager will work collaboratively with other members of RCY teams and support the development and nurturing of positive relationships across teams within RCY.
