If you are under
age 27 and eligible
for Community Living BC services,
we can help

Eligibility: young adults, from their 19th to 27th birthdays, who are eligible to receive services from Community Living BC and who received a reviewable service within 15 months of their 19th birthday.

RCY Advocates can:

- Help you get connected to services and programs that you need
- Provide support to help you speak up in a way that might solve your problem
- Help you move out of Ministry of Children and Family Development care and assist you in seeking Community Living BC services
- Discuss your rights and what to do if those rights are ignored.

What happens when you call our office:

- What you say will be kept private.
- You will be treated with respect.
- You won't get in trouble for phoning us.
- The person you speak to will answer your questions.

You have RIGHTS!

- To speak up for yourself
- To choose how you live your life
- To be respected and included
- To be safe and protected.
